

Love to read or write?

Unleash Your Story: Make a difference August 30-September 28, 2009

www.unleashyourstory.com

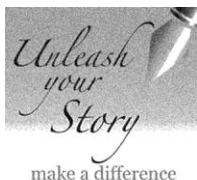

Unleash Your Story: Make a Difference brings readers and writers together to raise awareness and funds for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation (CFF). Cystic Fibrosis is the most common fatal genetic disease in the U.S. Thirty years ago life expectancy for a child born with CF was only five years, but through the efforts of the CFF and others, life expectancy and quality of life has increased dramatically. We hope through our fund-raiser to help the CFF continue these efforts and to someday soon find a cure!

The Unleash Your Story: Make a Difference event will feature fun contests and prizes to challenge readers and writers to rack up the highest word counts, pages read and funds raised. Writers can strive to keep pace with prolific, award-winning author Lori Wilde while readers can try to match avid reader Michelle Buonfiglio of Romance: B(u)y the Book.

To participate you can:

- Start your own team. Work with other readers or writers to raise money, complete WIPs, read books, and win prizes together.
- Donate individually, and ask others to support you. Through the CFF web site every participant will get their own personal web page where people can donate in that participant's name. (All donations are tax deductible.)

For more information email info@unleashyourstory.com or visit our web site at <http://www.unleashyourstory.com>

Love to read or write?

Unleash Your Story: Make a difference August 30-September 28, 2009

www.unleashyourstory.com

Unleash Your Story: Make a Difference brings readers and writers together to raise awareness and funds for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation (CFF). Cystic Fibrosis is the most common fatal genetic disease in the U.S. Thirty years ago life expectancy for a child born with CF was only five years, but through the efforts of the CFF and others, life expectancy and quality of life has increased dramatically. We hope through our fund-raiser to help the CFF continue these efforts and to someday soon find a cure!

The Unleash Your Story: Make a Difference event will feature fun contests and prizes to challenge readers and writers to rack up the highest word counts, pages read and funds raised. Writers can strive to keep pace with prolific, award-winning author Lori Wilde while readers can try to match avid reader Michelle Buonfiglio of Romance: B(u)y the Book.

To participate you can:

- Start your own team. Work with other readers or writers to raise money, complete WIPs, read books, and win prizes together.
- Donate individually, and ask others to support you. Through the CFF web site every participant will get their own personal web page where people can donate in that participant's name. (All donations are tax deductible.)

For more information email info@unleashyourstory.com or visit our web site at <http://www.unleashyourstory.com>